

Allie & Jenny Beutel

Marilyn Beutel's twin daughters are college sophomores. Jenny is majoring in psychology/pre-medicine at Drexel University in Philadelphia. Allie is a screenwriting/film major at Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville, N.Y. But they have spent the second half of this semester at home, living with distance learning.

Jenny's online courses are scheduled through the summer. What September brings is unknown. Allie doesn't have summer classes and doesn't know when classes will resume. A filmwriting class this semester was completed at home, with her mother and sister serving as production assistants.

Marilyn teaches Hebrew to TRT fourth graders. Teaching via Zoom is challenging, she said. The students miss the course materials, games and just being with other children, she said.
